➤ Airport

➤ San Cristóbal de La Laguna

Among the many titles of honor to give prestige to San Cristóbal de La Laguna, is that of a Cultural Heritage granted by UNESCO on December 4, 1999, the better he preaches the importance of history and the crucial role the city has played in shaping and development of urban and social currents, which crystallized in the Renaissance and soon to be transplanted to America.

➤ Hotel Nivaria

This elegant eighteenth century manor house, which it was restored and transformed into a comfortable apartment. It is an ideal starting point for visiting the city. The city center is a few meters and can be easily reached on foot. Las Teresitas, the beautiful beach, is about a mile and a half. In the vicinity are a lot of shops and places of entertainment. A mile is public transport. The Tenerife North airport is five kilometers.

WEATHER

Tenerife is known internationally as the island of eternal spring. Its geographical location, in an imaginary strip that surrounds the planet and which are located some of the most privileged tourist spots in the world makes this sort of slogan that does not deviate from reality.

In general, the island's climate is very and moderate in all seasons. There are no seasons of intense cold or stifling heat. Average temperatures range between 17 and 18degrees from winter to summer 28 or 30.

In Tenerife there is a huge variety of landscapes. This also implies a multitude of microclimates, which is one of the surprising aspects and attractions of the island.

The greatest contrast occurs during any of the winter months, where you can enjoy the sun and the beach at any point on the coast of Tenerife, while watching at the top, a few miles in a straight line, the silhouette snow-capped, the peak of Mount Teide.
